
Profile Image Bug

Posted by rb9594 - 2008/02/10 10:32

I came across a problem with updating your image in your profile. I am looking into the problem and will get you updated when I find the fix.

Thanks for visiting.

Ryan, webmaster at <http://www.atvlounge.com>

Re:Profile Image Bug

Posted by rb9594 - 2008/02/10 11:20

If you want to update your avatar(image), click the link called "Your profile & avatar" under the USER MENU in the far left hand column. You will be redirected to another page with your profile info. Above your blank/current avatar(image)... there is edit buttons where you can change your profile and image(avatar).

Thanks

Ryan, webmaster at <http://www.atvlounge.com>

Re:Profile Image Bug

Posted by jrafter - 2008/02/13 19:50

hey how you doing im new to the site and would like to upload some pics but i dont under stand the file type

Re:Profile Image Bug

Posted by rb9594 - 2008/02/13 21:52

whenever you make a post, at the bottom there is a "browse" button, click it. a pop up box opens for you to select the file off your computer... select the file and click open... then back on the site click the image tag next to the browse button ...thats it. You will not see the image until you click the "submit"

hope this helps

Ryan, webmaster at <http://www.atvlounge.com>

Re:Profile Image Bug

Posted by jrafter - 2008/02/13 22:39

ok i made it small now it says the pixel size is to big

Re:Profile Image Bug

Posted by rb9594 - 2008/02/14 09:09

when you are trying to upload an image to the forum, the max height and width is 400 pixels, the max file size is 100 KB. can you check these features on your picture. If they are more than what I mentioned it will not allow you to upload. And the reason I had to do that is because some pictures got uploaded that actualls stretched the width of the website, i was surprised it didn't break it.

If you still have problems, send the pictures to me at webmaster@atvlounge.com . I will use photoshop to tweak them and post them for you.

Hope this helps.

Thanks

Ryan, webmaster at <http://www.atvlounge.com>

=====